

Nathan Underwood-Schuchman - Associate Director, Dining & Campus Services

I'm not even done with getting Risk Management approval for our food and alcohol for an event, and I'm already so grateful we have Nathan to help those like myself! The process is brutal to get all the required documents with all the correct information from all the various vendors we partner with, and it all needs to be done well in advance of the event. I've emailed him countless times in the last month for help and as each piece of documentation arrives. He's reassuring that I'm not alone in my experience, and explains some of the nuances with grace. I'm sure I'm not the only one he's helped through the struggles of the process!
